CHILD IS BURNED TO DEATH

Son of Mrs. Maria Rossi, of Lake Bluff, is Burned
While Left Alone

PRAYER CANDLE THE CAUSE

Was Left Alone While Mother Goes to the Neighbors and House and Contents
Burned to the Ground

After Mrs. Rossi of Lake Bluff had finished her prayers Friday afternoon in the humble cottage just west of the Northwestern station she arose and left the room in which the altar was placed to visit a neighbor, Mrs. Gustafson.

While she was gone the lighted candles before the altar ignited draperies in the room and soon this place was a roaring mass of flames while the wail of a child, little Peter Rossi, two years old, rent the air.

The child was burned to death. Mrs. Baumgartner, next door to the Rossi cottage, was the first to discover the fire. The flames were already greedily lapping up the little cottage. A little girl ran across the tracks and not far away to warn the fire department.

The frantic mother ran screaming towards the house crying Italian words probably of freight and endearment for her son, an only child.

She entered the burning house but was forced to stagger back, the flames had gained such headway that it was her hair which was scorched and her face received a severe scorching so that it was necessary to put her in the hands of a physician.

Just as she staggered out the Lake Bluff fire department arrived on the scene. The firemen forced Mrs. Rossi to abandon her frantic attempts to enter and themselves tried an entrance. However the house was a roaring furnace and to get in was an impossibility.

The firemen then devoted their efforts to try to save the property, using the chemical engine as much as possible, while the mother directed their efforts hoping to save the boy.

There is no water on the west side of the village and the chemical was the only thing that could be made use of.

In the charred embers at one side the firemen found the body of little Peter. It was burned almost beyond recognition and the remains were removed to the village hall where the inquest was held.

The boy may have tried to fight his way out of a window or some opening, judging from the position of the body when found.

Few beyond the firemen and the mother knew that the body of the boy was in the ruins. It was Fireman Art Anderson who discovered the head of the boy projecting out beyond some of the charred timbers.

Just how the fire started is a mystery but neighbors wag their heads and suggest retributive justice.

Mrs. Rossi was about a year ago arrested with her alleged paramour for the mysterious death of her lover's wife, Mrs. Muto.

It is said that Salvatore Muto and Mrs. Rossi had been living together for two or three years when one day Muto received a letter telling him that his wife, whom he had left in Italy, was coming to this country.

He is said to have written her telling her to stay where she was but she came along to this country unexpectedly and came to stay in the same house with Muto and Mrs. Rossi, his alleged mistress. There were quarrels and troubles galore but the husband is said to have preferred Mrs. Rossi.

After a few days of this Mrs. Muto fresh from Italy, was suddenly and mysteriously ill and died as suddenly and mysteriously of severe pains in the stomach.

Muto and Mrs. Rossi were at once arrested on suspicion and after a long drawn out existence in the Lake county jail in Waukegan were discharged in an admittedly "not proven" case.

It was always believed that they had administered arsenic to the dead Mrs. Muto to get her out of the way.

They were freed, and until the tragedy it was thought that they had left this part of the world. Then like a thunder clap came the news of the strange death of little Peter, said to be a love child of Mrs. Rossi and Muto.

Muto was away at his work at the time the fire took place. He is a section foreman for the Northwestern railroad at Lake Bluff.

The house is a complete loss, having been burned to the ground. Sheds and out-buildings were saved. The place was owned by the Quigleys of Lake Bluff.

ECHOES FROM THE BALL PARK

Last Sunday proved to be the most exciting day seen in Antioch by the base ball fans for some years. The start with the Antioch team crossed bats with the Father Mathew team, and in the first inning the K. F. M. team succeeded in scoring two runs and Antioch one, after which Antioch held down the opposing team to the two scores obtained in the first inning, and with a good string of batters showed the K. F. M. team how to sacrifice in six scores more. Much of the credit is due to Catcher Weinburg and Second Baseman Kelly, as every time a man succeeded in reaching first he would take a chance and get caught at second. Pitcher Poulton had seventeen strike-outs to his credit.

The second game, with McFadden in the pitcher's box, proved very exciting, as the game was to be five-inning event. In the first of the 4th the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the Barefoots of Chicago. In the first half of the fifth the Barefoots scored one and in the last half Antioch scored two, tying the score 3 to 3. Three more innings were played and in the last half of the 8th Antioch scored one run and finished the game.

Antioch is coming to the front very fast, and has some good games in store for the rest of the season. The attendance has been very good but was cut a little on account of the picnic at Zoluk Club.

Next Sunday the boys expect a large attendance as they have two good games for the afternoon; one being the married men of Antioch vs. the single men of Antioch. In the second game, which promises to be the most sensational of any played this season, the local boys cross bats with the Ramblers, one of the fastest teams in this locality.

Everybody interested in base ball should attend next Sunday's game. Game called at 2 p. m. sharp on the Grimm grounds south of Antioch. Entrance on the north and south road.

Light refreshments served on the grounds.

TO TEST THE SOILS OF LAKE COUNTY

According to the law passed three years ago, the soil of Lake county will be tested by members of the agricultural department of the Illinois University, under the supervision of the Agricultural Board of this state.

That evening dressed in their khaki uniforms, O. L. Fisher and H. W. Stewart of Champaign and Urbana arrived in Waukegan. The two young soil testers started on their triennial campaign on the soil of this county.

Tests will be taken at various points throughout the county and a map will be made which will report all tests made by these agents of the state.

It is expected that the test will consume all of three weeks.

TIPPED THE YOUNG ARISTOCRAT.

Condescension of Customer Displeased the Lordly Chauffeur.

Since it has become usual for younger sons of the English aristocracy to engage in the automobile business, it is extremely difficult for the ordinary purchaser to distinguish between the professional chauffeur and the aristocratic driver who occasionally exhibits a car to a client. There are at least 30 young Englishmen of noble families studying the fine points of motoring and taking customers for trial runs, with the result that some amusing mistakes are made.

Recently a young cousin of the duke of Beaufort was instructed by his employer to exhibit a car to one of the London tradesmen. The young man made himself agreeable, and when the car returned to the big house in Belgrave, the customer alighted and, pressing a half-crown upon the chauffeur, said: "There, my lad! and take care not to spend it foolishly!"

The young man drove back to his employer, a son of Lord Llangatlock, and indignantly recounted his experience.

"Well, you can consider yourself jolly lucky," was the consoling rejoinder. "The last time I saw the lady she gave me only a shilling." Exchange.

A Prophet in His Own Country. "I don't believe," remarked good old Aunt Loozy, "that Lige Potter is doing very well in Chicago."

"Oh, I don't know," replied Uncle Liphlat. "Lige used to be a party sharp chap before he went there."

"Yes, but we've been taking the Chicago paper four years now, and it's never once mentioned his name, even when the hull Potter family went there to visit him."—Puck.

OLSON ANSWERS SHURTLEFF

Denies Any Knowledge of Article Appearing in the Waukegan Gazette

DENIES ALL ATTACKS MADE

Says He Voted at the Smiley-Gilmore
Primaries in Woodstock in August
1906, Which He Can Prove

Woodstock, Ill., July 23, 1908.
To the Republican voters of Lake Co. and the 8th Senatorial District:

In answer to an article, signed by Edward D. Shurtleff, which has appeared in certain papers throughout the district, I wish to say that the statement made by Mr. Shurtleff, that the article which appeared in the Waukegan Gazette was written in an office in Woodstock, or by any one in any way connected with my candidacy for State Senator, is absolutely false, and my statement can be verified by communicating with Mr. Smith, the editor of the Waukegan Gazette.

I never heard or knew of the article until my attention was called to it several days after its publication in that paper.

The statement of Mr. Shurtleff that I sat in a Cook County Republican Convention, as a delegate, on Aug. 8, 1906, and that I went as a delegate to a Republican State Convention at Springfield on Aug. 14, 1906, is also false.

If my name appeared as a Cook county delegate to any convention after the primaries for governor in 1904, it was without my knowledge or consent, but, in 1904, I was elected a delegate to the state convention, although I did not ask or seek the position, and did not know I was on the ticket as a delegate until a few days before the primaries.

No one then questioned my right to act, and I had not at that time ever voted in McHenry county.

Mr. Shurtleff makes another false statement when he says that I cast my first vote in McHenry county on Nov. 6, 1906, in defiance of law. I had resided here continuously since the spring of 1903 and was then a legal voter of Woodstock.

I voted at the Smiley-Gilmore primaries in Woodstock in August, 1906, which can be proved by Judge Smiley, whom I supported, and neither candidate or their supporters then questioned my right to vote, as everyone in and around the city of Woodstock knows that I and my family have had no other home or domicile of any kind, than our home in the city of Woodstock, since the spring of 1903, and that for ten years prior to that time I and my family lived in Woodstock eight months of each year.

The statement of Mr. Shurtleff that I am in the fight for State Senator at the request of Governor Charles S. Deneen is a malicious lie, and made by him to get Yates men to vote for himself and Meuth.

I told Mr. Shurtleff at his Chicago office, in the presence of a reliable witness, before announcing my candidacy, that if he wanted to run for the State Senatorship from this district, I would not be a candidate, but would support him.

I challenge Mr. Shurtleff, or any of his friends, to produce one person in either McHenry, Lake or Boone counties that I have asked to vote for Governor Deneen or against Richard Yates.

I am a candidate for State Senator, and have not mixed in the Governorship contest in any way.

The further statement of Mr. Shurtleff that I have "joined hands" with David H. Jackson, the mayor of Lake Forest, and that I am "hand and glove" with an element in Boone county, is also untrue.

I have many friends in both Lake and Boone counties that are working earnestly for my nomination and have been since I became a candidate, but I am in no way to blame if Mr. Shurtleff is disappointed in not getting them to desert me, nor am I to blame because many voters in both counties have refused to give Mr. Shurtleff their support.

The further statement of Mr. Shurtleff that if I am elected State Senator I will furnish a vote at the command of any Chicago machine or combine, is untrue and ridiculous in the extreme, as Mr. Shurtleff must know by this time that I do not take orders from anyone but the people of the district I represent, and I can assure the voters

INTRODUCES AFFIDAVITS

Also Produces Newspaper Clippings Reflecting on His Political Career in the City of Chicago

Maragon, Ill., July 25, 1908.
Hon. A. J. Olson,
Woodstock, Ill.,

Dear Sir:
In a published statement over your signature, dated July 23, 1908, headed "Olson's Answer to Shurtleff's Attack," you state: "If my name appeared as a Cook County delegate to any convention after the primaries for governor in 1904, it was without my knowledge or consent."

The primary election ballot for Republican delegates voted at the 6th delegate district, comprising election precincts 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29 of the 22nd ward of the city of Chicago, at the primary election held August 4, 1906, bears the name of Albert J. Olson and Samuel E. Erickson as delegates to the state convention, and it also bears the names of Samuel E. Erickson, Albert J. Olson, Frank O. Desaix and B. A. Nelson as delegates to the county convention in Cook county, Illinois.

The Chicago City Directory of 1905 gives: "Olson Albert J. milk 261 N. Franklin."

I have caused to be filed with the county clerks of Lake, McHenry and Boone counties a certificate issued by the Board of Election Commissioners of the city of Chicago, Illinois, as follows:

"List of persons voting at the Republican Primary Election August 4, 1906."

"22nd Ward."
And on page 4 is the following:
"Franklin St."

"261—OLSON A. J.
"269—Gustavson Oscar
"299—Larson C. W."

"State of Illinois, County of Cook, ss."

"This is to certify that the foregoing list of voters at the Republican Primary of August 4, 1906, was prepared by this office from the original poll books used at said primary."

"Isaac N. Powell,
"Chief Clerk."

This is the official list of all persons voting in the 22nd Ward at the primary election of August 4, 1906; and as it has been a matter of such general repute in the city of Chicago and through the directories that our place of business before and at about this time was No. 261 North Franklin street, WILL YOU EXPLAIN TO THE VOTERS OF THE EIGHTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT HOW YOU COULD HAVE VOTED YOUR OWN DELEGATE BALLOT WITH YOUR NAME ON THE BALLOT AS A STATE DELEGATE, AND AS A COUNTY DELEGATE AND NOT HAVE KNOWN IT?

You further state in your circular as follows: "I voted at the Smiley-Gilmore primaries in Woodstock in August, 1906, which can be proved by Judge Smiley."

It is a well known fact that the primary election on August 4, 1906, was an official election, poll books were kept, and the names of voters registered under the law. I submit a certificate of Mr. George F. Rushton, county clerk of McHenry county, Illinois, as to your voting at the Smiley-Gilmore primary, which was held under the forms of law, August 4, 1906, in McHenry county, and it shows that you did not vote at that primary.

ATTEMPT TO CRACK BIG SAFE

Unknown thieves Thursday night broke into the Zion City depot and after drilling the safe full of holes tried in vain to blast it open with nitro glycerine. Failing in this they smashed open a small cash drawer securing between $10 and $12 in small change. Fleeing toward Waukegan they broke open Hiram's Ferry's barn, stealing a horse and wagon. There were found this morning on Grand avenue where this had been deserted.

That the men went to Zion without tools was shown from the fact that they first went to the Zion City blacksmith shop which they proceeded to break into. There they secured the chisels, drills and other tools that they thought might be needed in their proposed robbery.

Peculiar fact about the robbery is that the noise of the explosions were heard by nobody in Zion. After the safe had been drilled and the explosive carefully inserted, the safe was wrapped with whatever materials could be secured.

The noise of the first explosion and the fear that they might be caught at their work no doubt scared them away and prevented them from making a second attempt. The Zion police are working on the matter but as yet have no clue to the robbers. The whole city is stirred up as a result.

JOKE COSTS LIFE OF MAN AT BANGS LAKE

Because it is said he had often fooled his friends while in swimming by calling out that he was drowning, when he was in no danger, Monday morning when a Chicagoan stopping at Bangs lake, Wauconda, was in very real danger his friends laughed and he sank never to rise again, a prey to the waters.

The man was in swimming with a party of friends and seems to have remained in the water too long, so long as to become exhausted. He felt himself going and called out only to be greeted with laughs and jests it is said.

The accidental death took place at about ten thirty Monday morning on the east side of the lake and at one o'clock by means of a grappling hook made of fish hooks strung on a gas pipe the remains were fished out and later brought to the undertaking room where the inquest was held.

Clarence Jensen is the victim and is the only support of a widowed mother.

PLATES WORTH SMALL FORTUNE.

Have the Valuable Peculiarity of Constantly Growing.

"If you could eat your dinner off a service like this, now!" said a collector of porcelain, taking a strange, bright plate from a cabinet. "Why, such a service would be worth $100,000 or more."

The plate's surface was covered with an irregular and glittering crystalline growth a half-inch high. Beautiful crystals, in their graceful outlines suggesting quaint pagodas and gnarled trees, rose up everywhere from the porcelain pattern.

"It is," said the collector, "a growing plate. It is one of those plates whose clay, containing aluminum and magnesium, causes an outgrowth of crystals under the enamel. Such plates are very rare. I paid $2,000 for this one."

"Only a half-dozen growing plates are known. One, that belongs to a Boston collector, is valued at $4,500. Another, that had belonged to a poor New York woman who attached no value to it, sold at auction in '91 for $3,700."

"It is interesting to have a growing plate in your collection. This specimen here has put forth three crystals under that little blue mountain design since it came into my hands."—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

An American Venice.

It is a surprising thing to know that New York city, although not known as the American Venice, contains more islands than any city but Venice, for within its boundaries are 31 separate and distinct islands, most of which, encircled by deep water, will afford unlimited shipping accommodations and dockage for the commerce for future years, to reach undreamed-of proportions, judging from past and present growth.—National Magazine.

Children's Sleep.

As a general rule the lad at school between the ages of 13 and 16 requires nine to ten hours sleep. Growing boys need a large amount of sleep, and when this is denied them, neither their bodies nor their minds can develop properly. An English authority points out this lack of hours of rest falls most heavily on the clever boys.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT

First Cavalry Hanger on at Long Grove Said to Have Stolen a Horse

IS CHASED FOR FIVE MILES

The Thief is Discovered by a Woman
Who Gives the Alarm and Pursuers
Capture Him After Hot Chase

The discovery of a horse thief, by a woman, the giving of a warning, and the hot pursuit after the thief by mounted men were all exciting passages in an incident during the return of the First cavalry to Chicago Monday.

Mrs. George Quentin, wife of Lake county's candidate for state senator, proved the hero in an incident in which a horse thief was captured at Long Grove Monday at noon.

The First cavalry was biking Chicago wards and the men had stopped at Long Grove to invade the stores of the village and load up on provender from cheese and crackers to bolonzn sausage.

One of the men, a hanger on, invaded the horse yards of B. Sauer and Company, it is alleged, and putting bridle and saddle on a horse there rode off.

It was just at noon and as he made away Mrs. Quentin by accident came to the door saw him riding off with the Sauer horse, could not understand it, and was all the more puzzled when the boy began to whip the animal.

She gave the alarm to a hired man on the place and the man at once mounted a horse and rode in hot pursuit after the boy. Others joined him and the posse made the capture after a five mile run.

The alleged thief gave his name as Robert Fowell and his residence as 2918 Fifth avenue, Chicago. He said his father's name is Colen Fowell. The street and number and name can not be located and it is believed the boy is concealing his identity.

The First cavalry officers knew little or nothing about him except that he acted as a sort of funny and started with the regiment a week ago in Chicago.

He is held in the Lake county jail where a constable brought him.

BUYING POOR WOMAN'S SMILE.

Homely Mr. Gwillkintoss Accomplishes This at Very Little Cost.

"Can a woman's smile be bought? Well, yes," said Mr. Gwillkintoss, "sometimes, and it may be for little money."

"Here is a woman who for weeks has been sitting on a downtown doorstep selling shoestrings. This is a diseased door and so she interferes with her and so she sits there, with her stock spread over the greater part of the step, while she sits at the other end, holding on her arm an infant."

"And it always seemed to me that trade must be dull with her, because I never saw anybody buy of her; and finally I thought it was up to me to buy something and sort of help trade along a little. Because, you see, while the profit on shoestrings is very large, still you don't make anything at all unless you sell some."

"So I thought I'd buy a pair, which was easy to do, for the reason that she had a good stock. Not a skimpy little mess thrown down there on the doorstep to attract attention to her and the child, but a real assortment to choose from; and it wouldn't be any charity to buy of her."

"So I stopped and looked the stock over and selected strings of the exact length I wanted, and I found these there with lips of the particular kind I like best; she looking on while I was making my selection; and when I handed over the nickel she looked up a little at her customer and signified her thanks with a pleasant little smile, for every nickel counted, and I am afraid that business had been dull with her."

Odd Wedding Gift.

One of the newest things in the way of a wedding present is a set of push buttons for every room in the house. They were of beaten gold and jade, pale ones for the light decorated rooms and dark ones for the heavier decorations. This is a new idea, but some one has suggested gold keys as even newer.

Her Mistake.

"I had to leave my last situation because the misas said they were going to lead the sinful life, and they wouldn't want any servants about the place."—Punch.

SEFFY

A ROMANCE OF A PENNSYLVANIA FARM

By

JOHN LUTHER LONG

Illustrations by Don Wilson

(Copyright, 1920, by John Luther Long)

SYNOPSIS.

The crowning desire in the life of old Baumgartner, a Pennsylvania German, is to obtain possession of the beautiful meadow which lies just between Baumgartner's property and the railroad station. The property in question was inherited by Sarah Pressel, very pretty and athletic young girl, and belonged solely to her. But old Baumgartner had longed for it so many years and endeavored to purchase it from Sarah's father so many times that the property became known as "Baumgartner's yearn." At the village gatherings on the porch of the store old Baumgartner always declared that the property would some day be his. At length Baumgartner came to realize that his only hope of obtaining the property would be through the marriage of his son Sephenjah to Sarah Pressel. In a mock auction "Seffy," as Sephenjah is called, is sold by his father to Sarah for $1. "Seffy" is a meek, slow-going youth, who is never first in the race for anything, and who is, in fact, always last. He is a fair-haired, gentle, always led by his father. Of a rather angelic disposition he is a gentle and kind youth who seems not to understand anything about strife and competition. Thus he appears utterly unprepared to win in any contest of love or life. Sarah Pressel is a girl of a different color. She is a very high temper, Baumgartner gives Seffy some lessons in courtesy. Seffy does his share and prepares to go off with Sarah. Baumgartner has caused himself to be appointed guardian of Seffy. Seffy shows his first spark of ambition. He is unable to resist the fascinating wiles of Sarah and he kisses her. It was his first kiss he had ever known. But Seffy was not the first man to know the pleasures of kissing Sally.

CHAPTER IV.—Continued.

"I have never kissed no one but mother," said Seffy, who felt nervous. "I don't know how I don't know what made me do it—I couldn't help it. It won't happen again."

Whereat Sally laughed and eluded about Seffy's delighted neck and cried to his puzzled heart:

"Yes, it will!"

And kissed him back!

"Sally," said Seffy with solemnity, "do you mean it? You not mad?"

"Seffy," said Sally, "I am not worth it. I have been kissed by everybody who wanted to kiss me—and I have kissed everybody I wanted to kiss!"

"I am sorry for you, Sally," said Seffy, not meaning at all what she thought he meant—nor anything quite clear to himself, except that she had recklessly squandered something precious.

"I am, too, now."

And then—

"I shall never kiss no one but you, no more."

"Nor I anybody but you, Seffy."

And, strange as it may seem, to that moment, Seffy was the greater, braver and stronger, and Sally but the waiting, willing woman—as she ought to have been. Indeed, Seffy was courageous enough to have put that question which might, perhaps, transmute the pasture-land into one of those that lie within the borders of Elysium.

But Sam moved—with decision. They flew apart. Though he did not at once enter it was too late—the rapport was broken. Nevertheless, such things can be mended, if there is time. It is quite certain that if they could have continued a little longer in that dark parlor, with only the small ray of the lamp from the hall to lighten it, everything the sleepless old man at home so ardently wished might have been accomplished and they might have taken down that line-fence the next day and then have lived happy ever after—quite in the way of the old-fashioned story-books. For Seffy was still brave to audacity, and Sally was yet at his mercy—and happy to be so.

And here, if we were not arrived at a climax, I would venture to halt this history for a moment that we might discuss a bit those trifles in life which the ancients called Fate; and for which, or the lack of which, life often goes awry!

But while Seffy's courage grew again, and Sally's hope, the door on the other side of the room opened and the odious Sam came through.

V.

Seffy's Sitting-Up—and Down Again.

However, there was another door—and Sam arrived only to hear it close upon Seffy, whom Sally had just pushed through it.

"Seffy?" asked Sam casually.

"Yes!" answered Sally, quite unable to keep the joy out of her voice, "he's just come, and gone out to the spring—for a drink!"

"He'll drink something."

By which Sam meant some kind of no animal, with his water.

"Nothing but water!" said Sally meaningly. Sam perceived instantly "how the land lay," and made his cunning plans. Sam was not dull. He returned to the sitting room with Sally—where Seffy presently followed, I am sorry to say, like a conquering hero—at which Sam glared.

Unfortunately for Seffy, rural etiquette, as everybody knows, gave Sam precedence. "First come—last go," is the illogical rule. But you are to be informed that the late comer is at liberty to "ouster" his rival, if he can—or to dislodge him, if he can—by strategy. But every rustic lover attempts this at the greatest of risks. To fail is equivalent to losing caste—not only with the lady in question, but also with the whole world. For no girl of any spirit would look upon a swain who had ignominiously failed at such a crisis, unless he should rehabilitate himself—which means to accomplish the almost impossible.

Sam took all this into consideration as he watched Seffy—reclining in the easy chair, which Sally had indignantly and invidiously placed for him him—grow drowsy.

"Sally," said Sam at the right moment, "play something."

"I don't care to!" protested Sally. But then she turned prettily to Seffy.

"Shall I, Seffy?"

"Yes," smiled Seffy, from his Elysium, secure and confident. "I don't care!"

"And," said Sam insidiously, "we'll all sing. You air, me tenor, Seffy bass."

"I can't sing no bass!" said Seffy easily, "and Sam knows it. He can't make no fool off of me. Go on, I'll set here and—enjoy myself."

This was the direct rustic challenge, with an aim! Sam might choose his weapons! It made no odds! And Sally had to take it up for Seffy. This she loyally did.

Unfortunately, when Sally went to the organ Seffy was at her back and in the shadow—the lamp had to be moved—and in that sleepy-hollow chair. But she had all possible confidence in him—and, alas! he had in himself. For a while he feasted his eyes upon the exquisite back she had turned to him—and then, with a thrill of possession, inventoried the hair he had kissed—a little disordered—the lips—the waist he had embraced—how glorious that was! It seemed almost impossible now that he had done it. And the hands—what? He was lost for a moment. Then he was plowing opposite his father. The voice which had so sweetly—what was it exactly it had said—what?—he was hearing the line stake—still plowing—he could hear the voice quite distinctly—many of them—a choir—"I want to be an angel." Sally seemed mistily there—but he was still plowing—ooh he stopped—more and more mist—Seffy slept.

Sam stopped his tenor that Sally might hear him sleep.

"He said he couldn't sing bass!" grinned Sam.

Sally's hand flew to her heart. She had been trilling, if not with the art, yet with the feeling, of a lark. It was slightly the joy with which Seffy had filled her—only joy, vast and free. The red flamed in her cheeks at what she saw. I shall not describe it. No lover was ever more abject—no lady was ever more furious! We see the comedy of it only. We would not have been hurt, eh? But we did not live then or there nor under Sally's curious small conditions—nor with Sally's temper. Curiously enough, this Scripture came to Sally's mind:

"Gentle, good night!"

"Could ye not watch with me one hour?"

You know what strange and inopportune things come into the distressed, unguarded mind.

Sally rose with a dignity which even Sam had not suspected, and said:

"Gentlemen, good night!"

VI.

The Clothes-Pin Cure.

The old man had plowed six times around the six-acre field the next morning, singing and whistling his merrily tune as he went, when Seffy, unlimbered at the bars and started the big bay around in the opposite direction. The first time they passed his father only winked mysteriously and continued to whistle. The next time he stopped.

"We won't go home till morning, hah, Seffy? I usen't to myself. Say—looks like somesing occurred after all, hah? No one don't stay till morning unless—"

Seffy was silent.

"That's right. Kiss but nefer tell. For telling breaks the spell. If you've had one and want another—kiss but shut your head up. Say—you don't want to be no angel now, I expect, hah? Mebby you own one?"

But Seffy and the mare had disappointedly passed on.

"Well! Gee—wo—way—gee! Git along!" And he also made another furrow—in a less happy temper.

When they met again:

"Wheel!" roared the old man, and the mare stopped—trembling in her tracks. He laughed. Betz still responded if Seffy did not.

"Seff—Seffy, did anysing occur?"

Seffy faltered guiltily a moment.

"Yes," he said, then briefly, "somesing always occurs."

"Seff—Seffy, but about the pasture—"

Seffy started the mare.

"Whoa!" roared the old man again, with the same result. But he did not laugh this time. He sat on the handles of his plow and regarded his son. He was vaguely disturbing.

"Say—" he began ominously, "you didn't git out out?"

"Uhu," answered Seffy.

"What! Why, you durn—"

But then he laughed.

"Shiny hat no good?"

Seffy said no.

"Nor the diamond, nor the hair-grease, nor nessesing? Oh—gosh—mighty! Gee—wo—way!"

But before they met again, his gale had given way to an immense disappointment. The tragedy of the situation had prevailed with him, too. Seffy sullenly kicked a clod to pieces. His father looked off toward the coveted pasture and sighed. It was a superb piece of land. And it had never looked fairer. The sun was on its velvet green—the sun of the morning. A few thick-girthed, wholesome oak trees punctuated it. A stream laughed through it. Goodly cows stood chowing in the water and swishing amiably at the flies. The fences were intact. It would have been a delight to the eyes of any farmer on earth. The old man sat on the handles of his plow until it all got in his head once more.

"It's a nice field, Seff—Seffy," he sighed. "I nefer seen no such clofer. And she's a nice gal. I nefer seen no such gal, hese nice. Oach! they be long together. Well, gee—wo—way! They belong to us!"

They always stopped for a word when they met. The next time the old man said, quite carelessly:

"Come yere, Seff!"

He patted one plow-handle, which Seffy took, while he took the other. He thoughtfully pulled the boy's shirt into place.

"Seff," he said, "tell me about it. I'm sorry I laughed! But I lofe that pasture and you lofe Sally. Let's not be fools, but git 'em. I expect you feel a little bad. But mebby you'll feel better if you talk about it. That is the way wiss me, I know; when anysing occurs I like to gabble about it—and go, and do it again—better." He let his hand rest kindly on Seffy's shoulder. To this his son responded.

"I fell asleep," said Seffy, smiling ominously.

"Of course," said his father, with a comforting movement of his hand. "That's right."

Seffy was amazed—and comforted.

"I expect I snored—"

"Er—yas—you do snore, Seff. Eferybody does. It's the Lord's fault, I expect."

"In a nice cheer—"

"Yas—you oughtn't 'a' sot in no nice cheer, Seff; somesing uneasy is better."

"Didn't wake up till daylight."

"Where was you then, Seff?"

"In the cheer—Sal—Sally's cheer."

The words stuck pitifully in his throat.

"Yas—" said the old man, looking away. "I don't blame you, Seff."

"It was a pasture-thing—like a tombstone—planned on my bosom—"

"Vail!" cried his father—the "w" would become "v" in cases of sudden emotion.

"Pasture—tombstone!" Seffy's head dropped in shame. "With things printed on it—Sephenjah P. Baumgartner, Junior, Went to His Rest, June 10th, 1871, in the 20th year of his age. Gone Not, But Forgo—Read Backwards!"

His father stifled a laugh. It was an old trick to him.

"What—what did you do then?" he asked in as matter-of-fact a voice as he could command.

"Snoaked home. It was daylight!"

"Gone not, but forgot—read backwards, hah?"

He couldn't quite make it out. That was new. Seffy helped him.

"Forgot, but not gone."

CALF ENTERED AN OBJECTION.

Why One Milking Machine Was Never Put on the Market.

Inventive genius seldom achieves success at the first attempt. A half-grown boy in Pennsylvania, who had devoted his leisure hours for many months to the making of a milking machine of his own devising, at last completed it to his satisfaction and resolved to make a trial of it. Without saying a word to anyone he carried his machine down from the attic, where he had wrought patiently day after day to bring it to perfection, and took it out to the barnyard, where old Cherry, the family cow, stood placidly chewing her cud with her big, luscious calf playing round her. A few minutes later his mother saw him trying to re-enter the house unseen. He was covered with dirt from head to foot and in a state of demoralization generally. In his hand he was carrying something that looked like the wreck of a toy battleship. "For mercy's sake, Jud," she exclaimed, "what have you been doing?" "I've been trying my milking machine on the cow," he said. "Your milking machine! Good land! Did the cow do all that to you?" "No," answered Jud. "Old Cherry would have stood for it all right. It was the calf that—or—kind of—seemed to object to the machine."—"Youth's Companion."

Not a Reformer.

I should think you could easily show the errors of your political opponents."

"Perhaps," answered Senator Sorghum, "but if I should convince them they would simply adopt my suggestions without giving me any credit for them. The opposition's mistakes are a part of my capital."

JUST WHEN HE THOUGHT HE HAD A BITE.

CURACAO IS IN A RAGE

VENEZUELAN CONSUL TAKES REFUGE FROM BIG MOB.

Home of One of Castro's Henchmen Attacked and He Is Forced to Make Public Apology.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao.—The relations between Venezuela and the people of the Island of Curacao, Dutch West Indies, are strained to the breaking point.

Following a long series of what the residents of Curacao regard as antagonistic actions on the part of President Castro, directed against themselves and the Dutch government, mobs gathered in force at this capital, Saturday night and Sunday and expressed their resentment in an attack upon the home of a Venezuelan who had published statements in Venezuelan papers derogatory to the island, and later made violent demonstrations in front of the residence of the Venezuelan consul; surrounded the German consulate where he had taken refuge, and compelled the ordering out of armed troops so that the consul might be protected from injury.

The demonstration before the residence of the Venezuelan consul, Senor Lopez, occurred late at night, and although no actual attack was made, it is stated that two shots were fired from the consul's house, no one, however, being injured.

Prior to this, about ten o'clock at night, a mob numbering about 1,000 gathered in front of the dwelling of a Venezuelan resident who, it is alleged, had insulted Curacao in the Venezuelan papers; broke down the doors with stones and, seizing the man, compelled him to sign a paper, which set forth an elaborate excuse for the publication of the statements with which he was charged.

The leaders of the populace also forced him to make a public apology from the balcony of his home, while the crowd below hoisted and groaned to accompaniment. Furthermore, members of the man's family were compelled to play the Dutch national hymn, while the people below shouted "Down with Castro; long may Wilhelm live."

MACK IS CHOSEN CHAIRMAN.

Buffalo Man Will Direct the Democratic National Campaign.

Chicago.—Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, N. Y., was chosen Saturday evening to be chairman of the Democratic national committee and manager of the Bryan campaign. Mr. Bryan and leading members of the national committee made the selection at a conference in the Auditorium Annex.

Other officers chosen at the conference are: Vice-chairman, E. L. Hall, Nebraska; secretary, Uroy Woodson, Kentucky; treasurer, Charles N. Haskell, Oklahoma; sergeant-at-arms, John I. Martin, Missouri.

Central headquarters for the campaign will be in Chicago, with branch headquarters in New York. The offices here probably will be in the Sherman house, but that is not settled yet.

Hughes Will Run Again.

Sanraae, N. Y.—Gov. Charles Hughes will accept a renomination if the Republican party of this state desires him to again be its candidate.

In a statement made public Friday night the governor so declared himself and said the personal reasons which prompted him to say privately some time ago that he did not desire a renomination are not controlling and that "if renominated I ought to accept."

Eight Cadets Suspended.

West Point, N. Y.—Eight cadets in the United States Military academy here were sent to their homes Thursday as a result of hazing members of the fourth class.

Kentucky Wets Win by One Vote.

Georgetown, Ky.—In one of the most exciting local option elections in the history of this city, in the principal distilling section of central Kentucky, the "wets" secured the victory by a majority of one vote. Women and children took part in the canvass.

Oklahoma Town Fire-Swept.

Foss, Okla.—Fire destroyed a block of stone buildings on the west side of the main business street, including the post office, First National bank and five storerooms. Loss, $50,000.

U. S. A. WINS OLYMPIC GAMES.

American Athletes Easily Lead All Nations on Track.

London.—Presentation of medals and trophies to the winners Saturday afternoon closed the Olympic games in the stadium. The presentations were made by Queen Alexandra, the daughter of the king of the Netherlands and Lady Desborough.

In all of the events concluded since the Olympic games began early in the year, including such games as water polo and other sports in which England alone competed, the present standing of the countries, counting wins only, is as follows: United Kingdom, 38; America, 22; Sweden, 7; France, 4; Hungary, 3; Norway, Germany, Canada, Italy, 2 each; Belgium, South Africa, Finland, 1 each.

London.—It would be no exaggeration, in the minds of the 100,000 spectators who witnessed the finishing struggle of the Marathon race at the Olympic arena Friday, to say that it was the most thrilling event that has occurred since that Marathon race in ancient Greece, where the victor fell at the goal and, with a wave of triumph, died. And it was won by an American.

It was an American day, and the remnants of Thursday, which ranked strongly in the breasts of Americans here when they came to the stadium, were forgotten not only in the victory of John F. Hayes, the Irish-American Athletic club runner, but in the splendid record made by the other Americans, who were well to the front in the line of those that finished.

Dorando was first to enter the stadium at the finish. He staggered, dazed and delirious, and in the last 300 yards fell four times and was helped up by track officials, who finally half-carried him across the line. Because of this he was disqualified.

ASKS FOR A FIGHTING NAVY.

President Roosevelt Addresses a Conference of Officials.

Newport, R. I.—Pleading for popular support for a "first-class fighting navy," a navy capable of seeking out the enemy and "hammering him into quills," President Roosevelt was the central figure here Wednesday in the most notable conference of American naval officers ever called together to consult and discuss, in a broad, general way, the future United States battleships.

When the trim little cruiser yacht Mayflower, flying the president's white crested flag of blue at the main truck, stemmed into the harbor Wednesday morning nearly two hours behind schedule time, with her bowsprit missing, one anchor gone, bowsprit dented and six strange figures in black oilskins and sea-wearers gathered in the bow, she brought the story of an adventurous night's run in the blindest fog of the summer and of a collision in which the lumber-laden schooner Menawa was cut practically in two by the president's yacht.

TWO DEAD, TWELVE WOUNDED.

Bloody Career of Desperadoes in Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Boston.—Two dead, a man and a woman probably shot fatally, and ten others suffering from bullet wounds, make up the record of the murderous career of two bandits who Wednesday terrorized the Jamaica Plain district, eluding the pursuit of hundreds of policemen and thousands of citizens. Starting on Tuesday night by entering a saloon in Jamaica Plain, three men, who are supposed to be Italians, killed one man with revolvers, wounded two others and, riding the cash register, got away with $90.

Boston.—One of the bandits who "shot up" Jamaica Plains, killed two persons, wounded 11, and then took refuge in a cemetery, was killed by the police, another was wounded and the third was arrested.

Honduran Revolt Is Over.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras.—The government troops Sunday occupied the town of Chololeca, which some time ago was captured by the revolutionists, and it is believed in official circles here that this practically ends the revolution.

Shoots Son and Kills Himself.

Lowell, Mass.—During a fit of insanity Sunday Eliza Drake, a quarry man, shot and probably fatally wounded his four-year-old son Walter, and then shot and killed himself.

BORAX! NATURE'S DISINFECTANT. GLEASER AND PURIFIER

Everybody realizes the necessity of some method of purification of sinks, drains and utensils in which may lurk the germ of a dreaded disease.

Health is a question of cleanliness and prevention.

Most people are familiar with the use of disinfectants in their ordinary sense—all of which are unpleasantly associated with disagreeable odors, on which are depended to kill the contagion (which disinfectants must of necessity be of a more or less dangerous character) and must be used for this purpose and for no other, and in consequence kept from children and careless handling.

There is, however, within the reach of all our readers a simple, safe and economical article that will not only answer for every disinfecting purpose—but can also be used for a multitude of domestic cleansing and purifying purposes—Borax.

Borax is a pure, white harmless powder coming direct from Nature's laboratory. In fact Borax has often been called "Nature's Cleanser and Disinfectant."

Two tablespoonsful of Borax in a pailful of hot water poured down the grease-choked pipes of a sink or flushed through a diseased drain, cleanses and purifies it, leaving it clean and sweet.

Bed clothing and clothes used in a sick room can be made hygienically clean and snowy-white, if washed in a hot solution of Borax water.

Kitchen and eating utensils, used during illness will be kept from all possibility of contagion if Borax is used when washing them. Pure as snow and harmless as salt, and because it can be used for almost every domestic and medical purpose, Borax must be considered the one great household necessity.

SAVAGE FLING AT AUDIENCE.

Inebriated Orator Resented Disapproval of His Condition.

"Like many a statesman of the past," said Senator Beveridge, "he drank too much. And one Fourth of July morning, on a platform bug with flags and flowers before the courthouse of a country town, facing an audience of farmers and their families that had come from miles around, the statesman arose to deliver the Independence day oration in a slightly intoxicated state.

"He was not incapable of an oration, but his oration was a disgrace to him, and the audience was disgraced."

"He held up his hand. They were silent. Then he laughed scornfully and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, when a statesman of my prominence consents to appear in such a little, one-horse town as this, he must be either drunk or crazy. I prefer to be considered an inebriate."—Washington Star.

THE GARDEN SPOT OF THE EARTH

Many People Planning to Go to Southwest Oklahoma.

The removal of restrictions on Indian lands in the Indian Territory portion of Oklahoma, is creating great interest throughout the nation among capitalists looking for investments and planning to establish manufacturing, as well as among the tillers of the soil who hope to better their condition.

Chickasha is situated in the Washita valley, the center of the choicest of the Indian lands, and to that city will go those who study the situation intent on reaching the vantage point. Seven railroad lines diverge there. Water plants will furnish to manufacturing cheap electric power.

Chickasha ships more corn, more cotton and more live stock than any other point in Oklahoma.

The modern hotel business district in the valley and beautiful residence portion on hills make a veritable dreamland. The imposing churches and modern school buildings are monuments to the character of the citizens who erected them.

The country for which Chickasha is the market center ranks with the most productive in the world. Corn, cotton, wheat and alfalfa are grown with equal success to that of either crop in a one crop country. Garden trucking is to be one of the most profitable pursuits. Fruits of all clerk on the 4th day of August, A. D. 1906, and have been such clerk ever since said time.

"I further certify that I have fully examined the original poll books used at the primary election in the third election district of the township of Dorr, of said McHenry county, at said primary election, and that on the poll books of said election district and of the other election districts of the said township of Dorr, at said primary, which I have fully examined, there does not appear the name of Albert J. Olson, Albert Olson, A. Olson, or any other name describing Albert J. Olson as a voter at said primary election, and that if the said Albert J. Olson voted at said primary election in the said township of Dorr on August 4, 1906, his name was not recorded by the clerks on the poll books of said election.

"I further certify that the records show that at said primary election David T. Smiley of Woodstock, Illinois, was nominated as the Republican candidate for County Judge.

"G. F. Rushton,
County Clerk of McHenry county,
Illinois."

Also consult Judge Smiley yourself as to whether you voted in that primary.

Will you explain to the voters of the Eighth Senatorial District when and where you voted for Judge Smiley in the Smiley-Gilmore contest, or when you ever voted in McHenry county prior to November, 1906?

In the city of Chicago, on April 28, 1906, another primary election was held to select delegates to a judicial convention, to select one Republican candidate for Supreme Court Judge, and I believe, one or two other judges. The records show that you were voted for as a delegate and elected to this convention, and it was the delegates selected to this convention, upon their election, that selected the Republican county central committee from the 22nd ward of the city of Chicago, and in which was the celebrated fight between Samuel E. Erickson and B. F. Clettenberg for control of the ward. During this contest, Mr. Erickson and Mr. Clettenberg were both members of the Legislature, and I know from them, at the time, from Mayor Busse, from Mr. Kilcourse and from Dr. Frank W. Lambden, and from many other prominent men of Chicago, that you were actively engaged in that contest and sought with Mr. Erickson to get control of the ward. I submit herewith a statement signed by Mr. A. L. Lambden as to your connection with this contest in April, 1906. The statement speaks for itself.

Statement made by A. L. Lambden, now residing at 902 Walnut street, in the city of Chicago.

"I am acquainted with A. J. Olson, who is now running for state senator in the 8th senatorial district, and who formerly lived in the 22nd ward of the city of Chicago. I am also acquainted with Frank J. Chaiser, and have known both Chaiser and Olson for over fifteen years past.

"Two days before the April primaries, 1906, these men met at the North Side Turner Hall. A. J. Olson, Frank J. Chaiser, Martin Mullen and Dr. Frank W. Lambden, and A. J. Olson proposed that they should divide the patronage of the north and south ends of the ward, and said that there would be no trouble about it. It was decided to be for Sam Erickson for committeeman from the 22nd ward. Mullen was a walking delegate for the Teamsters' Union, and it was agreed that he should go to Dr. Lambden and Olson and get money as he needed it. Mullen agreed to deliver his precinct. In the campaign Dr. Lambden and A. J. Olson both spent considerable money. The doctor spent about six or seven hundred dollars. Chaiser was to have the patronage of the north end of the ward and Olson the south end. Dr. Lambden did not care for any patronage, as he lived outside of the ward. Erickson agreed, if he was elected committeeman, to let Olson and Chaiser run the patronage.

"This Frank Chaiser is the same person who was cashier for John A. Linn while Linn was clerk of the Superior court. He turned state's evidence against Linn and caused Linn's indictment, and confessed in court that he was the person who had changed the books and records, by which Linn got the money.

"After Linn was sent to Joliet Olson bought a half interest in a saloon and restaurant at 11 State street for Chaiser and said he put in six thousand dollars. Chaiser did not stay there long, but sold out and took a position from Olson as a salesman, soliciting milk orders in bulk, and is now in the milk business at the corner of Oak and Chestnut streets, at Olson's old stand, under the name of F. J. Chaiser & Company, but Olson is a silent partner, backing Chaiser up.

"A. L. Lambden,
902 Walnut St.,
Chicago."

And if this is not sufficient, I attach hereto editorials from the Chicago Chronicle, the Chicago Daily News and the Chicago Evening Post, showing not only that you were connected with this contest in the 22nd ward of Chicago, in April, 1906, but that it was YOUR contest.

As to the other statements in your reply, charging me with falsification, I shall not go into them, but leave it to yourself and your conscience to settle in any way that you see fit, as to what you have said or done, or have not said or done. But as you have been so violently mistaken as to the above matters, it is more than possible that you may be mistaken as to the remainder.

I have no desire whatever to do you any injury, but the people of the Eighth Senatorial district are entitled to know the truth and form their judgment upon the truth and not to be misled by things that are not the truth. Mr. Olson, under all of these circumstances, don't you think that you should retire from the race for state senator in favor of Mr. L. E. Mentel? Aren't you the man who is keeping McHenry county from having a State Senator?

Very respectfully,
Edward D. Shurtliff.

BATTLE FOR POWER
IN A WARD CONTEST

Interest in Judiciary Primaries Tomorrow Centers in a Fight in the Twenty-second

DENEEN CROWD VS. BUSSE

Fight by Governor's Friends to Curtail the Postmaster's Influence on the North Side

In preparing for the judicial primaries set for tomorrow, Republican county leaders say the only contest will be in the Twenty-second ward, but the indications are that the fight there will be a battle royal. It is not, however, a contest over the nominee to be placed on either ticket, the participants in the struggle being solely interested in securing control of the ward committeeship.

Representative Bernard F. Clettenberg, an ally of Postmaster Fred A. Busse, is a candidate for the leadership held by John A. Linn, and opposed to him is Albert J. Olson, former alderman and state representative, whose public record has been condemned by the Municipal and Legislative Voters' League.

The chief interest in the fight is the fact that it has dragged Postmaster Busse into the fray. Reports are circulated also that certain members of the Deneen-West combination are fighting Busse through Olson, to prevent the postmaster from retaining control of the solid North Side.

Fight on Busse's Power

The word has gone out that Clettenberg must be defeated because he is Busse's friend, and in order to clip the postmaster's wings in county politics. Mr. Busse has accepted the challenge and no matter how the fight results, it is likely to have a far-reaching effect on the local situation, as tending to widen the breach between the Busse combination and Governor Deneen's wing.

Representative Clettenberg today mailed a circular to every Republican voter in the ward asking:

"Do you want to be honestly represented? Frank Chaiser, A. J. Olson and Sam Erickson represent themselves. Bernard F. Clettenberg will represent you. A vote for Clettenberg means a vote for decent administration of party affairs."

Erickson is Clettenberg's colleague in the legislature, and Chaiser was cashier in Linn's office. Both are working for Olson under the direction of a Deneen lieutenant, who, with Sheriff Pease, would like to see Busse's influence in North Side politics curtailed.

PRIMARIES ARE ON TO-MORROW

Republicans Will Contest at Polls—Lafayette Back from South

Republican judiciary primaries are to be held tomorrow. In the 22nd ward, where the seat in the republican county committee relinquished by John A. Linn is to be filled, looms the only contest of consequence. In the 13th ward, where rival republican factions have fought with bloodshed and death recently, a truce has been declared and no trouble is looked for. In the 22nd ward the contest for committeeman lies between Representative B. F. Clettenberg and Samuel E. Erickson. Erickson is backed by A. J. Olson, formerly a representative and an alderman. Circulars have been distributed throughout the ward giving the endorsement of Clettenberg by the Legislative Voters' League report for 1901, and the condemnation of Olson by the Municipal Voters' League in 1900 and 1902. Postmaster Busse is behind Clettenberg, and with the election of his candidate will get control of the only ward in the north town which has not owed allegiance to him.

(Chronicle, Sunday, April 29, 1906)
CLETENBERG WINS IN PRIMARIES

Republican primary elections were held yesterday in the city and Cicero, but the only contest of importance was in the twenty-second ward, where Bernard F. Clettenberg won a bitter fight against Samuel E. Erickson and ex-Alderman Albert J. Olson, capturing seventeen out of twenty-four delegates.

The contest was over the county committeeship to succeed John A. Linn, who within a week will begin serving a indeterminate sentence in the Joliet penitentiary. Although the struggle was nominally between Representative Clettenberg on one side and Representative Erickson and ex-Alderman Olson on the other, the real battle was between Postmaster Fred A. Busse and his political rivals in the Linn ward.

By his victory yesterday Mr. Busse establishes his supremacy as a party leader in the twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth wards and will go into the convention tomorrow with seventy-seven delegates. Mr. Busse made a hard fight against great odds and his triumph doubtless will add much to his prestige as a leader in the republican county organization.

The Busse-Clettenberg combination carried five out of seven primary districts in the twenty-second ward and the postmaster is now the undisputed boss of the town of North Chicago.

Twenty-second Polls Heavy Vote

Of 11,939 votes cast in the city and Cicero nearly 2,500 were cast by the Twenty-second ward, or more votes than were polled in the ward primaries of May 6, 1901, when Deneen and Lowden were battling for the republican gubernatorial nomination. Erickson and Olson evidently tried to overthrow Busse, Erickson running a candidate for committeeman in the Swedish districts and Olson in the Irish districts. Erickson carried his own district, the sixth, and his combination carried the fifth or Pohlmann district; the rest went to Busse and his organization.

A FRIEND OF CIVIL SERVICE

Senator Hopkins has at all times during his long public career, been an ardent friend of civil service, and no member of congress has a more pronounced record in favor of this reform than he. President Roosevelt pays Senator Hopkins a great compliment in his celebrated work on "American Ideals" in the chapter on "Civil Service Reform" when, in reciting the history of the advancement of national civil service, he takes occasion repeatedly to mention Senator Hopkins by name and to compliment him on his active support of the reform.

The president says:

"Among the members of the committee, in different congresses, who stood up valiantly for reform, were Mr. Hopkins of Illinois, Mr. Bulterworth of Ohio, Mr. Boatner of Louisiana and Mr. Dargan and Mr. Brawley of South Carolina." It is noteworthy that the men who have done most effective work for the law in Washington in the department are the men of spotless character who show by their whole course in public life that they are not only able and resolute, but also devoted to a high ideal."

SENATOR HOPKINS' RECORD IS GOOD

Senator Hopkins has served in congress for eighteen years and is completing his first term of six years in the senate. His record is one to which he can point with credit. It contains no stain. He has been efficient and painstaking in his long service, and the fact that he has been a member of the United States senate for six years and made good there will add him to his campaign for reelection. The fact that he was chosen chairman of the platform committee of the national convention last week shows the confidence reposed in him by President Roosevelt. Senator Hopkins deserves a reelection and we believe it will be given him without much question.—Pittsburg Sentinel.

OLSON ANSWERS SHURTLEFF

of this district that if elected I will not repudiate and spurn any instructions they give me in the way and manner Mr. Shurtleff did the instructions of the people and the whole state in regard to the passage of a primary law.

The other statement of Shurtleff that in the early part of May I attempted to buy the State Senatorship by getting all the opposition out of the way is as untrue as it is foolish. I can prove by Judge C. H. Donnelly, C. J. Hendricks, of Harvard, and others, that I was called out of bed and asked by the Judge to come to the court house at 10 o'clock at night, where Mentch then and there told me in the presence of Mr. Hendricks and other responsible persons that he had withdrawn from the race for State Senator in my favor, and that he would support me, and this was not done by Mentch until he had conferred that very day and evening with Shurtleff and his other friends from different parts of the county.

The other statement that "through my newspapers" and personally through the district I have made the issue that Mr. Shurtleff must be defeated because he was supporting Mentch for State Senator, is also maliciously false.

I do not own any newspaper or any interest in any, and I have not asked anyone to vote or work against his candidacy.

Mr. Shurtleff claims I should be defeated solely because I seek an office that was promised by him and others to Mentch several years ago, in violation of the people's right to nominate a senator, and I leave it to the voters of the district to decide on August 8th whether E. D. Shurtleff, et al., or the voters are to make the nominations.

Lake and Boone counties have each had the senatorship since it was held by a McHenry county man, regardless of the custom which Shurtleff has for years insisted must be kept, McHenry county is this time entitled to the senatorship. No complaint of this twenty-year custom was made by Shurtleff until I became a candidate and not then until Mentch had re-entered the race for State Senator (after withdrawing) and Shurtleff had himself become a candidate for the lower house.

Mr. Shurtleff saw the old established custom must be broken in order to give him an excuse for entering the race for the lower house.

Mr. Shurtleff claims that he and Mentch should both be elected, would be to deprive either Lake or Boone of a house member, which would be contrary to the custom followed by Shurtleff heretofore, and in my judgement contrary to justice.

I am willing that the voters of this district should judge my record in the legislature by comparison with the one made by Shurtleff on the primary law and other legislation without further comment.

In answer to the new charges, made in the second letter of Mr. Shurtleff, will say. I never owned a saloon, or any interest in one, nor was I even interested in one, nor was the said Frank J. Chaiser ever employed by me as a "salesman," or in any other way.

I am not now (nor was I ever) a partner of said Chaiser, either "silent" or otherwise, nor is Frank J. Chaiser doing a milk business at my old stand under the name of Frank J. Chaiser & Company.

I will say further that I am greatly disappointed in Mr. Shurtleff. I thought him far above using the campaign methods that were first started in this Senatorial campaign by his friend Mentch, of Oary, who is a candidate for Senator against me.

I know the numerous charges are being made to prejudice the voters in an attempt to secure Mentch's nomination.

I ask Mr. Shurtleff to prove to the voters of this district a few of the many false charges he and Mentch have made so promiscuously before making any other.

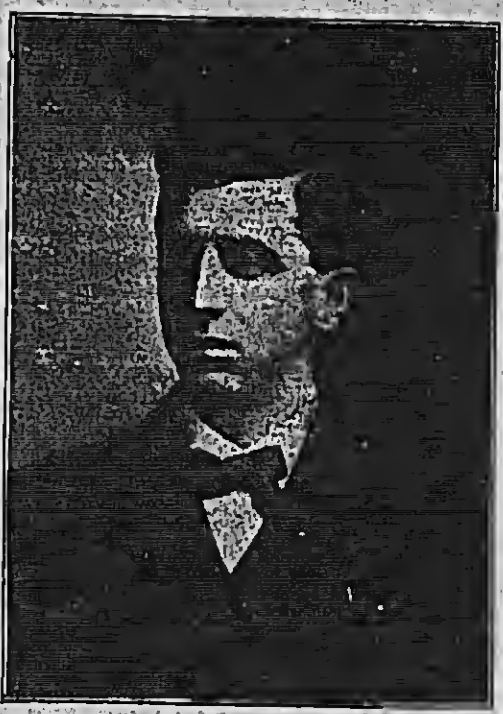

Very truly yours,

A. J. OLSON.

To The Republican Voters Of Lake County

I would like to meet every voter of Lake County personally, but as this is practically impossible, I take this way of appealing to you to support me in my candidacy, if you feel you can consistently do so.

The primary election on August 8th will be a direct primary, and the candidate

RALPH J. DADY
of Whitney & Dady

Republican Candidate for the Nomination for STATE'S ATTORNEY

Primaries, Saturday, August 8, 1908.

receiving the highest number of votes in the entire county will be the nominee of his party.

There are certain offenders who know what the law is, but wilfully violate it; as to such persons, my policy will be, if elected, an uncompromising prosecution to the end, to the best of my skill and ability.

As to many offenses, the State's attorney is vested by law with a discretion to temper the prosecution, or not, as circumstances seem to him to require; as to offenders of this character, I pledge myself to so conduct the affairs of the office that the public welfare shall be my guiding motive, and I will never, under any circumstances, offer a shield to crime.

In a word, I will ever strive to conduct the office to promote obedience to, and respect for the law.

Respectfully,

Ralph J. Dady

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF

The Eighth Senatorial District

I desire to announce that I shall be a candidate for the Lower House of Representatives of the General Assembly, from the Eighth Senatorial District, subject to the Republican Primaries to be held August 8, 1908.

In the 44th General Assembly, 1905, and the 45th General Assembly, 1907—in substantially four sessions—the 8th Senatorial District and McHenry county have had the honor and the influence of filling the Speakership of the Lower House. How fairly or how poorly I have filled that position I can only leave to the judgment of others, upon the record, and to the opinion of those who have served in the House.

That there is a very good opportunity for the 8th Senatorial District and McHenry county to fill the position of Speaker in the Lower House for a third successive term, and that it is the request of many of the present members who are candidates for re-election, are the causes of my candidacy at the present time.

If elected, I shall vote upon the question of the United States Senatorship as instructed by the Republicans of this District in the primaries of August 8th.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD D. SHURTLEFF.

To The Republican Voters Of Lake County

I take this means of declaring my candidacy for the Republican Nomination for the office of State's Attorney of this Lake County. Realizing the importance of this office to the people in general and appreciating the responsibility there to attached, I ask your support.

Having practiced law in Lake County for more than twelve (12) years, with good measure of success and my Republicanism never having been in doubt, I feel justified in asking Republican support on August 8th.

If on the above date I am nominated, and in November elected, I shall during my tenure make an honest effort to so conduct the affairs of the State's Attorney's office as to meet the approval of the entire people.

My oath of office, as prescribed by the Statutes shall at all times be my platform. Under the new Primary law, which will be in force July 1st, and will therefore govern in August, the People have the absolute power to select the man to make up the Republican ticket, and when you mark in front of a candidate's name you are doing that which has been done heretofore by a delegate in convention, so in reality on August 8th, 1908, Lake County will hold the largest convention in its history, and I am particularly anxious to receive the endorsement of that convention.

Wm. F. Weiss.

The Remedy That Does.

"Dr. King's New Discovery is the remedy that does the healing others promise but fail to perform," says Mrs. E. R. Pierson, of Auburn Centro, Pa. "It is curing me of throat and lung trouble of long standing, that other treatments relieved only temporarily. New Discovery is doing me so much good that I feel confident its continued use for a reasonable length of time will restore me to health." This renowned cough and cold remedy and throat and lung healer is sold at J. H. Swan drug store. 50c $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Easily Borrowed.

"No interest is so rapidly compounded as on borrowed trouble," says the Charleston News and Courier. And yet nothing is to be borrowed on such slight collateral.—Washington Herald.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course, you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless, feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a falling appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Havana vs. Havana.
"Havana is spelled with a 'B' on genuine imported cigar boxes and with a 'V' in the case of home-made cigars," explained a tobaccoist presented at Cardiff recently, for selling British cigars as Havannas. The magistrate agreed that the custom prevailed and inflicted a nominal fine.—London Daily Mail.

Women's Fashions.
Like the famous Alice, Fashion would insist that we grow "taller, and taller," and "slimmer and slimmer." Skirts are narrower and longer than ever, and the object of every well-conducted costume would seem to be an expressed declaration that women should have only one leg to stand on.—Madame.

Circumvented.
"Nurse, give me some strawberries, and give them to me quick, before my mamma comes," said a three-year-old in one of the hotel dining rooms. "You know, I've got one of those mothers who's always mixing in."

LAKE COUNTY'S CANDIDATE

To the Republican Voters of the 8th Senatorial District:

I desire to announce that I shall be a candidate for state senator from the 8th Senatorial District, subject to the republican election to be held August 8, 1908.

Owing to my duties on the Board of Review, it will be impossible to personally see all of the Republican voters of the district, therefore I take this way of announcing my candidacy, and solicit your support.

George Quentin.

Just Exactly Right.

"It gives me unbounded pleasure to recommend Buchen's Arnica Salve," says J. W. Jenkins of Chapel Hill, N. C. "I am convinced it's the best Salve the world affords. It cured a felon on my thumb, and it never fails to which it is applied." 25c. at J. H. Swan's drug store.

To the Voters of the Eighth Senatorial District

I hereby announce myself as candidate for the office of State Senator from the Eighth Senatorial District, subject to the action of the Republican primaries to be held August 8th, 1908; my two terms' service in the lower house I feel ought to somewhat qualify me for the position.

If elected I do hereby agree to vote for the candidate for United States Senator that shall receive the endorsement of the voters at the primaries. Frank R. Covey, Belvidere, Ill.

Art of the Superior Smile.
The superior smile is a useful accomplishment for any young man. It is much in vogue at the universities, where it may be studied at its best on young Don. Many men who learn nothing else at the universities learn this art, and find it uncommonly useful in after-life. It is an excellent cover for a naked mind, and should be sought after by parliamentary candidates.—Oxford Varsity.

The First Illinois Cavalry of the National Guards of Chicago while on their summer hike arrived at Fox Lake on Wednesday of last week, and as a most suitable camping place chose the farm belonging to Mayor Busse. The grounds are large and spacious and proved to be an excellent spot for the sham battles, drills, and parades, which took place each afternoon of their stay. Large crowds from Antioch and the surrounding country were present to witness their maneuvers every afternoon. There were 650 soldiers with 900 horses in the detachment and their pitched tents formed a miniature village. The men stood the march fairly well although a few of the horses and several of the troopers became ill along the route and had to be cared for by the medical department. Postoffice inspectors are, it is said, going over rural routes in several places in the state, making thorough inspection of all routes with a view of discontinuing them where the people take no interest in keeping up the roads, believing that the service is not appreciated on such routes. The officials declare that the rural free delivery is a great convenience to the farmer and he should appreciate the service enough to drag the roads and keep them in repair.

"Make hay while the sun shines" is the motto that Lake County farmers are following just now and have been for the past several days. ## Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling home of Swamp-Root, including all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

STATE IS FOR YATES

Reports From Every Section of Illinois Show Him to Be a Winner.

75,000 MAJORITY IS PREDICTED

Deneen Planning for a Big Slush Fund But Loath to Let the Money Loose.

Mysterious Moving in and Out Around the State House—Money Cannot Counteract the Immense Sentiment for Yates.

Springfield, Ill., July 14.—Independent and unprejudiced observers of current political activities in Illinois declare that ex-Governor Yates will sweep the state by an unprecedented majority. The surface indications of victory are so overwhelming that they cannot be misunderstood by the vast political tyro.

Reports from Counties.

In every county in Illinois there has been coming a flood of reports that spell defeat for Deneen and victory for Yates. It is all so amazing, so unexpected to Deneen and his friends that the truth is difficult to recognize. They supposed that when Yates took the stump last winter and began his now memorable campaign in the southern counties, that it did not amount to anything more than a demonstration of hostility, but they are now undeceived. It is beginning to dawn upon their comprehension in a most painful manner that the Yates standard is attracting voters, irrespective of past or recent factional connections.

The tide, at first slow, has become a resistless torrent. Old time Republicans, some of them without personal or political interest in the outcome of the fight, some of them allied to Yates, and others favorable to Deneen, have been dropping into Springfield for ten days past, and they all bring back stories, viz, that the revolt of Republicans in counties outside of Cook is widespread.

Yates' Majority 75,000 in Country.

A moderate estimate of Yates' strength as stated by these Republicans, is indicated by an assertion of Yates' friends that his majority outside of Cook, will not be less than seventy-five thousand, and by the admission of Deneen's friends, that it will perhaps reach fifty thousand. Deneen, Roy West and all the other members of the Governor's coterie of partners and managers, have taken alarm. For a week past secret emissaries of the state machine have been coming to Springfield, silently and mysteriously and disappearing, silently and mysteriously.

They are scattering far and wide through the counties where the greatest disaffection exists. The presumption is that they are carrying large sums of cash for distribution in the hope that loathe will save the day for the Governor.

Immense Campaign Fund.

It has been an open secret for months that Deneen and West had accumulated a great campaign fund amounting to upwards of one hundred thousand dollars, with the understanding that it was to be employed liberally wherever money seemed to be needed.

Something happened, just what, nobody seems to know. The very natural conclusion is reached that the money looked too good to be turned loose among strangers. Alas for human greed.

The time came inevitably, when further attempts to hold on to the "dough" began to possess a sinister aspect, and now it is getting into the hands of men who can spend it copiously.

Money Can't Affect Sentiment Now.

There can be no doubt about the trend of public sentiment in this state. It is positive and overwhelming. It is all Yates. Deneen has been driven to the last extremity of relying upon Cook county. There lies his only salvation. The surface indications, as disclosed by the newspapers, accord Governor Yates Cook county, and the character of the work that is being done by his managers is not misleading.

The county politicians will have to conclude that Deneen's race is run, and that Dick Yates' name will again head the Republican State ticket at the November election.

YATES CLUB BIG ONE IN McLEAN COUNTY

Bloomington Pantograph—The attendance of Republican voters upon last night's meeting of the Yates club was quite large, even more so than that of a week ago. Great enthusiasm was manifested, and the supporters from various localities made very flattering and encouraging reports from the field.

Three men reported having in the last few days received 500 signatures on cards of voters pledging their support to Yates. The club now has 2,600 signatures of McLean county voters on these cards and it is expected that 4,000 will be in before Aug. 1.

The Yates voluntary campaign committee members in Kankakee county now number 3,700; Sangamon now has 4,700 and other counties are coming along in proportion. These members are signed up, enthusiastic Yates rooters.

SENATOR HOPKINS' SPEECH DECIDES TYPE OF CANAL

For Which He Receives Thanks of President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft.

Probably the greatest undertaking of the present century is the construction of the Panama canal, and in the consideration of the type of canal to be built, no member of congress performed a more important part than Senator Hopkins. As a member of the committee on interoceanic canals, he was looked to by President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Taft to present the views of the administration, and in the prolonged debates in the Forty-Eighth congress he delivered an extended speech that convinced congress of the impracticability of a sea-level canal and committed it to the lock canal that is now being constructed. Senator Hopkins' speech was considered one of the most masterful of the session, and at its conclusion he was the recipient of many congratulations, together with the personal thanks of the president and secretary of war. The following are facsimiles of letters received by him, which he greatly prizes:

THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON.

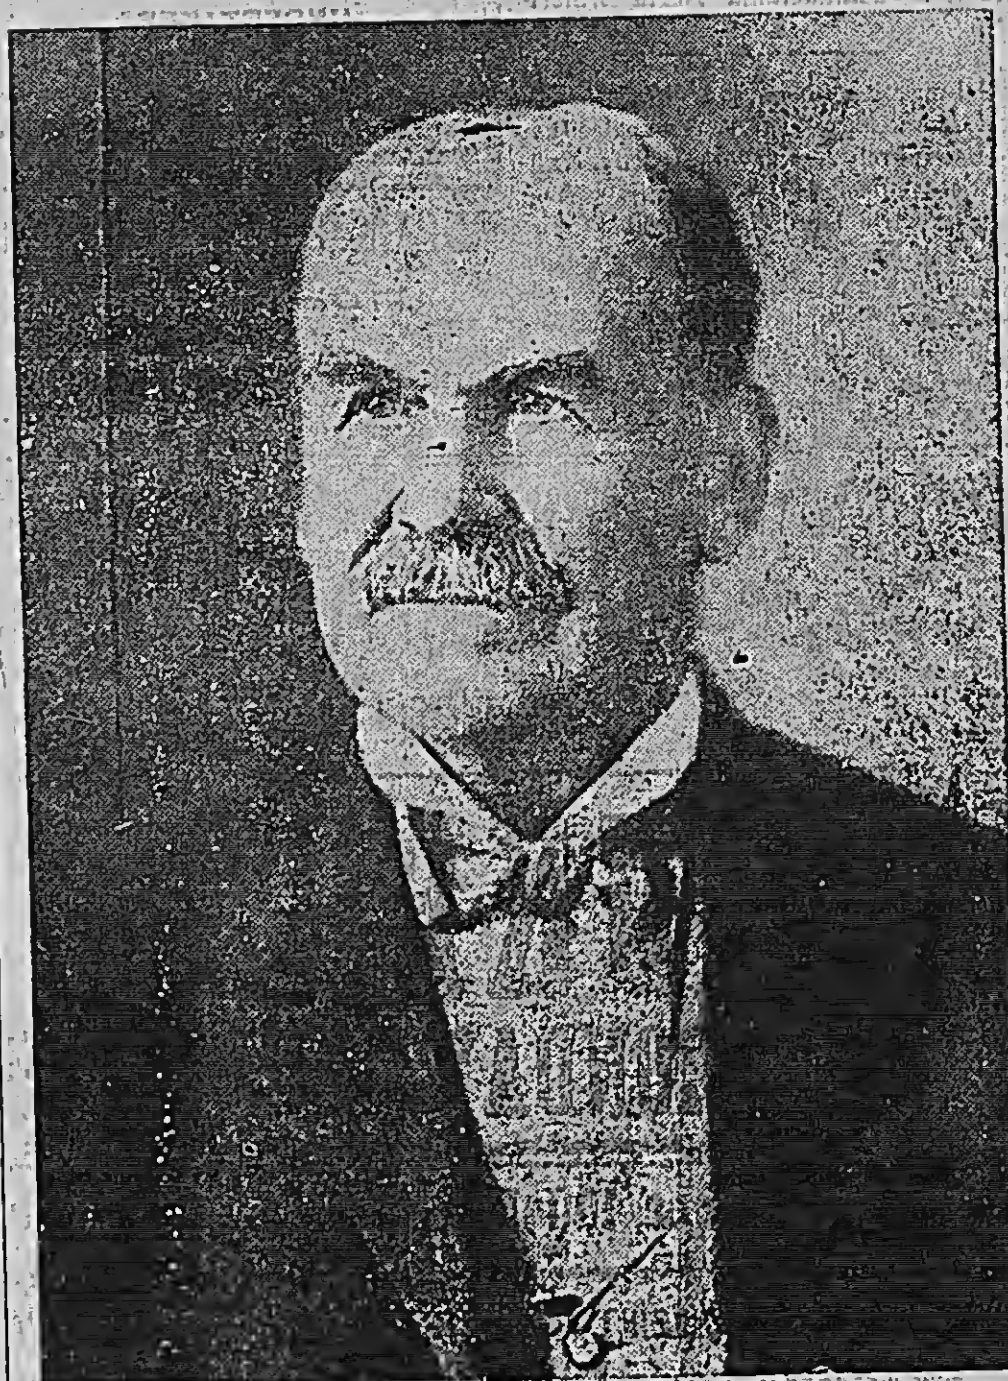

My dear Senator:

I want to thank you for your excellent speech on the canal. It was just what was needed. With hearty regard,

Sincerely yours,

Theodore Roosevelt

Hon. A. J. Hopkins, United States Senate.

ALBERT J. HOPKINS

Junior United States Senator from Illinois

There is probably no senator at Washington who has ever acquired so much influence with his colleagues and with the administration before the end of his first six year term, as has Senator Hopkins, of Illinois. He now enjoys the special confidence of the president on matters of the greatest public importance, and he is personally so well liked and his abilities and judgment so well respected in the senate, that the natural disposition to keep new senators in the background has not applied in his case. The voters of Illinois will not disappoint the president and lawmakers at Washington, and will send Senator Hopkins to represent it for the second term, when he will without doubt be shortly recognized among the dozen or so most influential men in the United States government.

A-BUZZING, BUT NO NOISE

Lake county is in the Fox congressional district, and this district is also claimed as the home district of ex-Senator Mason and of Mr. Webster. The following from the Waukegan Daily Gazette may therefore be of interest to the three Cook county candidates:

"Senator Hopkins' candidacy has reached the stage where his re-election seems even far more assured than when the campaign opened up. From the opening of the campaign it was apparent that the Senator's work in the senate had greatly satisfied the people of Illinois and while the atmosphere might be permeated with a little buzzing from certain quarters, the sound would not develop into real noise at any time.

"The Gazette proved true—the buzzing has been heard, but that's all. "Mr. Hopkins has been a credit to Illinois during his career as senator and his long experience as congressman made him exceptionally qualified for the higher position. A fact which shows his ability more than anything else—the recognition given him in the senate by being placed on many of the most important committees there. He acted on those committees in a fearless and impartial manner, yet firm and justly.

"He has been a national figure, this had the confidence of President Roosevelt and his cabinet and has worked hand-in-hand with the President and his policies and has thus been an invaluable aid to the progressive administration of our remarkable president.

"With change in presidents during the next few years, a strong senate, one which will back up Rooseveltism, is needed and therefore the return of such men as Mr. Hopkins is much desired by all who have the welfare of the republican party at heart.

"The Gazette is pleased to say that Lake county is still planning its faith and confidence to Mr. Hopkins and will give him a most satisfying endorsement, showing appreciation of his meritorious work of a most efficient member."

REPORT SUPPRESSED

Deneen's Frantic Efforts to Hide Record of Terrible Brutalities in State Institutions.

ARE EXPENSIVE STATE PAPERS

Have They Gone into State House Furnace?—Questions Are Asked.

Actions in the Matter Show that "The Guilty Flee When No Man Pursueth"—Called It Practical but Are Afraid of It.

Springfield, Ill., July 14.—An extraordinary situation has been disclosed in connection with what appears to be a deliberate attempt on the part of Governor Deneen to suppress and destroy the printed record of the evidence that was adduced by the special legislative committee that investigated the several state institutions.

Valuable State Record.

This evidence comprises a great body of several thousand pages. It was ordered printed by the Forty-fifth General Assembly to the number of ten thousand copies, with a view of giving it a widespread circulation throughout the state. Its exact status was described in the printed resolution as "a volume to accompany the report of the special committee." The special report consisting of the pamphlet of one hundred and seven pages was printed at the time, which was submitted to the House of Representatives. The work was done under the direct supervision of the officers of the legislature.

Report Moderate and Dignified.

The report was moderate in temper and tone; statesmanlike in conception. The covers of the record, however, were fairly bursting with stories, told under oath, of brutality, monstrosity, incompetency, starvation and even criminality in the state institutions. It was a record that puts to shame any governor under whose administration it was compiled. The legislature following the ordinary procedure in such cases, left the duty of issuing the volume of evidence to Secretary of State Rose.

Have Mysteriously Disappeared.

What happened to the volumes thereafter is more or less a matter of mystery. A few hundred of them, about five hundred, got into the hands of persons who desired to read the testimony taken at the several institutions.

Nobody knows what has become of the remainder. A story is current that they have been destroyed in the furnaces of the Capitol, but it cannot be verified. Whether they were burned or hid in some dark recess of the Capitol or shipped to some remote warehouse, there to be held in escrow until after the August primaries, no one knows. The fact remains that not a single volume of the supplementary report can be obtained. The affair has rapidly developed into a scandal of large proportions. That it will be made a subject of legislative investigation next winter is admitted by everyone who is familiar with the facts.

A Little Light.

A little light has been thrown on the tactics of Deneen and his henchmen in regard to what happened to these reports in the following, which appeared in the Schuyler Citizen, a rabid Deneen newspaper, published at Rushville, Ill., and in which the Deneen men glorify over the fact that by the usual hocus-pocus they have succeeded in sequestering a large proportion of the books.

The article in the Rushville paper is as follows:

Deneen's Friends Hold Asylum Report Souvenir.

Springfield, Ill., Saturday.—Unless reports are very wrong Deneen men have put one over on their enemies. It is said that they have absorbed a 1,000-page report of the asylum investigation and that practically all of the 10,000 edition has fallen into the hands of Deneen's friends. Soon after the general assembly decided to print 10,000 copies of the entire evidence and the report of the committee, Chairman Hill and others who had charge of the distribution began to receive requests for copies. As the time went along the demand for the copies became more insistent. There was no way of telling whether friend or foe wanted the copies.

When the report finally made its appearance in printed form there were requisitions from all the state institutions for copies, not one or two, but a dozen. There was a sudden interest awakening or re-awakening in what the various witnesses had to say. There were calls from institutions that had not been investigated. To cap the climax the board of charities wanted 100 copies. It then began to dawn upon the distributors that something was doing, but it was too late. Most of the volumes fell into the hands of the friends of the administration.

Why Such Chicanery?

Why is such chicanery as indicated by the above practiced by Deneen? He has pretended in his speeches and in his defense book, said to have been printed and sent broadcast at the expense of the state, that the investigation and its record of testimony taken were "farfetched." If they are "farfetched," why does he go to the extreme lengths he has to suppress all the sworn testimony? Why not let it go to the people of Illinois and let them pass judgment on it? Why the falsehood that Chairman Hill had charge of the distribution when the books were placed in charge of the Secretary of State as are all documents?

STANDARD OIL WINS

COURT OF APPEALS KNOCKS OUT $29,240,000 PENALTY.

JUDGE LANDIS REVERSED

His Conduct of the Famous Rebate Case is Severely Arraigned and a New Trial is Ordered.

Chicago.—Federal judges in the court of appeals lifted the burden of a $29,240,000 fine from the shoulders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana Wednesday and reversed the judgment of Judge Landis, by which the heaviest fine ever imposed in a federal court was saddled upon the oil company found guilty on 1462 counts of accepting rebates from railroads. Speedy rehearing of the case, which has attracted widespread attention, is considered improbable, and the counsel for the oil company contend that a second conviction cannot be obtained.

The case was remanded with instructions that a new trial be held. The jurists making up the court of appeals are Judges Grosscup, Seaman and Baker.

Judge Grosscup delivered the opinion of the court, Judges Baker and Seaman concurring, and in sharp arraignment of the conduct of the trial Judge Landis intimated that he may have presumed to hold himself above the law.

Judge Landis Called Arbitrary. The decision declares that the manner in which Judge Landis decided upon the number of offenses that had been committed by the defendant company was arbitrary. It holds that some other method than the one he used should have been applied.

Then it passes to the amount of the fine, which it declares was "sufficient to have wiped out many times the property of the defendant." The court holds that the only company on trial was the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. It says that this corporation alone could be punished and that to attempt to punish its holding corporation would be to assert that a person could be punished who was never before the court or who had never stood trial. This, the judges say, would be to assert a startling principle of law.

Others Than Commerce Law. The court declares that the arrangement of the violation of an interstate commerce law is to be considered in the results of such violations were not too strongly stated. It says, however, that the interstate commerce law is not the only one in the United States, and that it is because there are others that the case is reversed and remanded.

On the amount of the fine, the upper court said: "Did the court in the fine imposed abuse its discretion? The defendant indicted, tried and convicted was the Standard Oil company, a corporation of Indiana. The capital stock of this corporation is $1,000,000. There is nothing in the record in the way of evidence that some of the assets of the corporation were in excess of that amount. It may therefore be safely assumed that but for the relation of the defendant to another corporation not before the court, the court would have measured out punishment on the basis of the facts just stated."

The judges then commented on the punishment of the defendant in such a large amount and continued, saying: "Briefly stated, the reason of the trial court for imposing this sentence was because it was brought out on examination that the capital stock of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was principally owned by the New Jersey corporation, a corporation not before the court. The trial court, adding that in concessions of the character for which the defendant before the court had been indicted, tried and convicted, the New Jersey corporation was not a 'virgin' offender."

"Can an American judge, without abuse of judicial discretion, condemn anyone who has not had his day in court? That to our minds, is strange doctrine in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence."

Constantinople.—An Imperial irade issued Friday ordains the assembling of a chamber of deputies in accordance with a constitution, which has been elaborated by the sultan. The irade has been communicated to the valls and the district lieutenant governors with the necessary orders for the holding of elections.

It was a spectacle of truly royal splendor, for the latest type of British dreadnought, with the royal standard flying, came to anchor among the double columns of foreign warships and the prince was welcomed ashore by Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, Premier Laurier and the assembled dignitaries, flanked by thousands of soldiers and a multitude of people.

Quebec, Que.—The prince of Wales had another day of strenuous activity beginning Friday morning with a grand review of the troops, sailors and marines on the plains of Abraham, then officiating as the title deeds of this historic battlefield were turned over as a permanent memorial, between times attending gala luncheons and dinners, and finally at night mingling with the gay throngs of beautifully-dressed women at the state ball at the Parliament building. Politeness. It was the last day of the term in one of our public kindergartens. Glancing around the room at the beaming faces of the children, the kindergarten noticed one child pick up his plate and lick it. ## HEALTH AND INCOME

Both Kept Up on Scientific Food.

Good sturdy health helps one a lot to make money. With the loss of health one's income is liable to shrink, if not entirely dwindle away.

When a young lady has to make her own living, good health is her best asset.

"I am alone in the world," writes a Chicago girl, "dependent on my own efforts for my living. I am a clerk, and about two years ago through close application to work and a boarding house diet, I became a nervous invalid, and got so bad off it was almost impossible for me to stay in the office a half day at a time."

"A friend suggested to me the idea of trying Grape-Nuts, which I did, making this food a large part of at least two meals a day."

"Today I am free from brain-tire, dyspepsia, and all the ills of an overworked and improperly nourished brain and body. To Grape-Nuts I owe the recovery of my health, and the ability to retain my position and income." "There's a Reason."

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood elements.

The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, breaks local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, causes nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambidex builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

CLAIRE C. EDWARDS

Candidate for State's Attorney of Lake County, subject to the decision of the Republican party at the primaries to be held August 8, 1903.

Claire C. Edwards was born in the town of Avon and reared on a farm about two miles north of Grayslake. He attended the public schools in Lake County graduating and receiving a teacher certificate at the age of 16.

After two years spent on the farm, he chose the law as his profession and with that end in view, attended the Northern Indiana Normal School; Wheaton College and the Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois; in all five years.

He then entered the Chicago Law School and graduated there in 1901, and was admitted to practice in all courts in Illinois in the early winter of 1901 and in the United States Courts in February, 1907.

During the eight years spent in college, Mr. Edwards worked and paid his expenses thus being essentially a self-made man.

Mr. Edwards has been engaged in the active practice of law in Lake County for over seven years, nearly six years of which has been in the City of Waukegan, having had an extensive and varied office and trial practice.

Mr. Edwards has as the court records will show, been engaged in the trial of nearly all the important criminal cases tried for the past five years, among which might be mentioned the cases of John Losnosky; Setrak Ereklilian; Frank Gravano; Mary Ross; Salvatore; Muto; Harold Mitchell and Mary Mitchell.

Mr. Edwards has recently been engaged to lecture to the students of the Chicago Law School for the years 1903-9 on the subject of "Criminal Law," thus being recognized as one of the leading Criminal Lawyers in the north part of the State.

By reason of his extended criminal practice and of his having made a specialty of criminal law Mr. Edwards, if elected State's Attorney, could and would give the People of the County the benefits of this valuable training and experience.

March 1st, 1904, Mr. Edwards formed a partnership with J. K. Orvie, and on April 10, 1903, the same was dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Edwards is now engaged in the new Welzel Building, corner of Washington and County Streets.

In an interview with a Reporter to-day, Mr. Edwards stated:

"I am a candidate for this office, standing squarely on my past record, which is well known to the majority of the voters of Lake County. I have nothing to conceal and no promises to make further than this: 'If elected, I mean to so conduct the office that I can look every man squarely in the eye and honestly say, that I am doing my plain duty, and to be able after the completion of my term to point to my record as State's Attorney with pride.
